

Product Description

ISO9001 304 Stainless Steel Sheets AISI 2mm Cold Rolled Steel Plate For Elevator

Where is stainless steel used in buildings?

Stainless steel for structural applications: the role of nickel

Stainless steel is used for explosion and impact-resistant structures such as blast and security walls, gates, security barriers and bollards. This is because it can absorb considerable impact without fracturing, due to its excellent ductility and strain-hardening characteristics.
